In Virginia the freedmen have decreased in number; estimated population at this date 500,000. North Carolina estimated about the census of 1860—360,000. South Carolina, decreased; present population estimated at 875,000. Georgia estimated at 100,000. The population of Florida has remained about the same as when the census of 18 0 was taken, 72,677. In Mississippi a census has been taken since the close of the war, showing a slight-decrease; 320,000 is the present colored population of the State. In Louisiana; reported colored population, 30,000. Terass—the Assistant Commissioner of the State reports an increase; colored population estimated at 200,000. Missouri—tis probable that the freedmen have left this State in numbers for Kansas, Jowa, &c., estimated population, 100,000. In Arkansas the colored population has decreased to about 100,000. In Tennessee the Assistant Commissioner estimates an increase from 280,000 population in 1850 to 300,000.

A Mystery Unnavelled.—For some time past the quiet, peaceable and law-abiding citizous of the southwestern portion of our city, near the Seventh Infantry encampment, have been missing tacir cows and calves, and were at a loss to know what became of them. One gentleman missed two half-grown calves at one time. It was thought strange that these animals should so soon forget their master's crib, around which they had been fed for many days; but the mystery of their disappearance is at last unravelled, and this is its solution: The soldiers of the encampment kill them for their own use I Last Studay evening, about dark, a white and black cow was shot by some of the soldiers and dragged into the encampment. A gentleman residing in that portion of the town arrived at the spot in time to see the cow dragged away. Learning this state of things, we were naturally led to ask if the troops were not furnished abundant rations, and if it was real necessity that caused them to commit these depredations, whon we were informed that they are allowed to draw money instead of rations. If this be so, we appeal to the military authorities to altor it, in justice to our citizens, as well as for the peace and dignity of our community at large.

Our New York Letter.

[FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.]

New York January 9 .- To impeach or not to in peach! that is the question: whother Congress will be content to let us bear the ills we have, or drive us, the country is general and themselves in particular, to others that we know not of, and can not estimate. People here who have no money and no property take no more interest in the mat ter than they would if they were citizens of Egypl, but the monied men are alarmed; the bone and sinew are scared; the Wall street bankers and since are seared; the Wall street bankors and Fiftcenth avenue lords are trembling in their patent leather shoes, for, as I have observed in many of my letters, they believe that if the President be impeached gold will rise with ruinous rapidity, and a financial crash will come. Let it come, if it must, it cannot injure the already impoverished South, and may bring the people of the North to their senses, and compel them to help us in helping themselves. Congress may oppress the South with impanity; but let them beware how they touch the Northern pocket men. Six hundred German lager heer vendors met vesterday, in solemn conclave, at the Bowery Gaden, and passed resolutions damning the Excise Law in the best high Dutch, after which they drank beer by the hour, then passed more damning resolutions, and drank lager again. The German's are determined to put down the law and will, no draubt, eventually succeed, for there are three hundred thousand Teuton beer drinker in New York city, resolved to do or die that they may drink and live.

There were great doings yesterday at Jerome Park, where the skating pond was thrown open for the benefit of the privileged. The sons and daughters of the aristocracy showed that they are quite as expert in skating as the more democratic classes, and the lake was soon filled with ladies and gentlemen, who slid along with as much ease and grace as though, instead of being born with teeth, like Richard the Third, they had come into the world with skates on. But I will not describe the skating, lest I tire your readers with too much of a good thing, for I must try their pritence in my next thing, for I must try their pritence in my next did not propose to indulge in a description of the grand skating carnival and fancy diess half (on 1co), which is to come off to-night at Major Oatman's pond, and which I shall attend for the special benefit of the readers of the News II is said that this affair will really be a high thing of ice, and so I have determined to invest in a ticket, and see the ice ball.

The results of the vicinity are experiencing great difficulty in obtaining hands for the next year. The results of the last year were so unfavorable that the freedman are not disposed to work for a share in the crop, and the tempting wages offered by the agents of Western planters have induced large numbers to leave the State. We wish the freedmen well—and blame no man for making any change which beter his condition; but it is very questionable whether their dreams of prosperity in the West will be realized. The advice of Gen. Howard, on this point, is very sound and timely, and should be brought to the attention of every freedman who has the Western fever.
